GEOGRAPHIC™

Dear Traveller,

Galápagos is a geography that is infinitely compelling - but you already know that.

It straddles the equator, is mercifully absent of hurricanes and cyclones, and fluctuates little as far as weather goes throughout the year. And of the all the species one is likely to see in Galápagos, only one species migrates – the rest are there for us to observe up-close and personally.

What does fluctuate is the visitor population and, in that regard, I thought this chart might be of help.

Galápagos attracts, at least with us, a very diverse audience, driven largely by times when families travel and don't. So there are very distinct times to be there - not based on the quality of Galápagos as a destination, but on your preference as to travel companions.

If you don't like the pitter patter of children's feet, you can see when to plan. If you are a family and want other kids around you can count on a robust acknowledgment that we understand the needs and opportunity to serve kids of all ages.

We've been at this for a very long time ever since my father pioneered travel here in 1966.

It's a very special place and we are totally committed to ensuring that our guests get the most out of their time here. As a consequence, you will have stories to share for a lifetime while, at the same time, becoming an ambassador for this remarkable wilderness jewel.

Yours Sincerely,

Sven-Olof Lindblad

Imagine being eight years old and face-to-face with a blue-footed booby? Or swimming with sea lions, penguins and marine iguanas? ## IT'S DIFFERENT IN GALÁPAGOS

“A little world within itself,” Darwin called it, an archipelago like no other on earth, with strange, wonderful, endemic creatures. The encounters with wild animals that happen in Galápagos don't happen anywhere else on earth, because there is simply no fear here. This is a marvellous thing to experience, this transfigured relationship with animals; it lifts human spirit. And the magic works whether you're 8 or 80. Each island is different and diversely fascinating. Explore the different landscapes, from lunar to lush, with our dedicated expedition team. And marvel as they reveal each island's different highlights for you, to make your expedition more engaging and more meaningful than any other form of travel.

Day four with marine iguanas. Day five with sharks!!! ”

THE GALÁPAGOS UNDERSEA IS DIFFERENT

Snorkel throughout your expedition. Or, if certified, arrange for special scuba diving opportunities.

Prefer to relax in the lounge and see Galápagos's wonderful marine life? Easy—our ships are the only ones in Galápagos with an onboard undersea specialist who dives with a video camera, so you can stay dry and see it all.

Venture even deeper—National Geographic Endeavour has an onboard ROV, capable of depths up to 300 metres. It lets our guests see parts of the Galápagos Marine Reserve that few scientists or researchers have ever explored. The ROV shoots film that is shared with guests aboard both our ships. Additionally, data we collect supports scientific research projects jointly managed by the Charles Darwin Research Station and Galápagos National Park. We're thrilled to be able to contribute to the scientific understanding of this unique part of the world.

EXPERIENCE GALÁPAGOS DIFFERENTLY

It is a privilege, a true luxury, to be in Galápagos, a world treasure that has required the efforts of a dedicated community, including our company as you'll see on the next page, to restore and protect it.

This awareness of privilege is the prime mover for our expedition team. It fills them with a contagious joy, fostering a rewarding esprit de corps among all onboard. It motivates them to share it with you—the sea, the islands, the wildlife—by providing the richest, most in-depth experience. And our staff-to-guest ratio, the most generous in the islands, and our uniquely equipped expedition ships are key to that, as you'll see on pages 24 to 31.

Each photo instructor is a naturalist with a gift for photography, who has undergone special training to help you better understand your camera settings, the basics of composition, and how to capture incredible wildlife behaviour. Our onboard Expedition Photography program also includes slideshows and photo-sharing presentations for all to enjoy. It’s fun and infectious—guests who never thought of themselves as photographers get caught up in the joy of ‘aim & create’. So whether you use a smartphone, a point & shoot, or a sophisticated DSLR, count on returning home with improved skills, confidence, and your best shots ever.

TRAVEL WITH NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC PHOTOGRAPHERS

BECKY HALE

Since 1999 Becky Hale has worked on projects for National Geographic magazine, National Geographic Traveller, National Geographic Kids, and National Geographic Society Mission Programs. Recent studio projects have included illustrating articles about the dwindling number of redheads being born, the treatment of maternity and paternity leave around the world, and a skull sample from an Inca gunshot victim. Fieldwork has taken her on assignment to northern Wisconsin, where she shot aerials from an ultralight for a National Geographic Television show, and to Chile, where she photographed the launch of National Geographic Endeavour.

AN EXPEDITION TEAM THAT MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

All guides working in Galápagos must be Galápagos residents, and the naturalists on our staff are no exception. The difference, however, is that they are each exceptional, hand-picked for their knowledge and Lindblad Expeditions-trained to genuinely enhance your experience. And clearly they do: we've received thousands of comment cards over the course of 40+ years in the expedition business consistently expressing the same sentiment: "Outstanding expedition staff."

The healthy diversity of specialties—marine biology, evolutionary biology, ornithology, and more—and personalities on our team means you can gravitate to the naturalists whose interests and personalities most appeal to you on any given day for any given activity. You are never directed into groups or assigned. And our generous staff-to-guest ratio (1 to 12 on both the yacht-scaled National Geographic Islander and on the larger National Geographic Endeavour) means you have plenty of choices every day.

An expedition leader, our team of naturalists, a Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor, undersea specialist, wellness specialist and video chronicler all contribute to your experience of the wonders of Galápagos.

ISLA SANTIAGO

Follow a path along a series of tide pools and underwater caverns in search of Galápagos fur seals, marine iguanas, sea lions, shore birds and Sally Lightfoot crabs.

Santa Cruz is home to the Charles Darwin Research station; learn about the science undertaken here and visit the neighbouring captive breeding program for endangered species of Galápagos giant tortoises, by their partners in conservation, the Galápagos National Park Service. Later, travel into the highlands where wild tortoises forage to observe and photograph these tortoises in the wild.

ISLA ISABELA

Explore the largest island in the group, home to enormous marine iguanas, abundant sea turtles, the only species of flightless cormorant in the world and the only penguin species that inhabits the equator. Cruise by Zodiac and hike against the backdrop of giant shield volcanoes, and snorkel in the cool, rich waters that often draw whales and dolphins to the area.

ISLA FLOREANA

At Champion Islet, snorkel among sea lions, or peer into an underwater world in a glass-bottom boat while keeping an eye out for the endangered Floreana mockingbird. Those interested can visit Post Office Bay, founded by whalers in the 18th century—if you see a letter addressed to someone who lives near you, the tradition is to deliver it by hand.

EXPERIENCE & EXPERTISE

We have conducted numerous Amazon expeditions in our history, and launched our first voyage aboard the beautiful, 28-guest Delfin II in August 2010. In order to provide expedition leadership in this pristine region, we tapped our tenured expedition leaders to lead our Amazon voyages, providing our guests with the same in-depth interpretation they find on our other expeditions. Our veteran team is highly knowledgeable about this locale, and trained to illuminate all the discoveries you'll make.

DAYS 11-18: PACAYA-SAMIRIA NATIONAL RESERVE

Spend this week exploring the Pacaya-Samiria National Reserve, a pristine swathe of jungle—one of the largest in South America—stretching more than five million acres, and harbouring some of the Amazon's most fascinating flora and fauna. Bordered by the Marañón and the Ucayali, two powerful rivers that converge to create the famed Amazon, the reserve floods annually with nutrient-rich waters and is known locally as the Mirrored Forest for the reflections created by their glassy water.

Set out into this remarkable wilderness on daily excursions by skiff, kayak, and, when the water level permits, hikes on terra firma. Skim past giant lily pads afloat on black-water lakes, and venture deep into the rain forest on narrow tributaries. Spot sloths and monkeys, including variably coloured saddleback tamarins, noisy howlers, and shaggy-tailed monk saki monkeys. Watch for an astounding variety of birds, from tanagers and hummingbirds to parrots and endangered scarlet macaws. In the river, look for massive paiche fish, the Amazon's largest; rare pink dolphins; and the infamous piranhas.

Enjoy an opportunity to swim in a lake in the reserve's interior. Seek out Victoria amazonica, a giant water lily that grows in small lagoons. Go on a bird-watching hike, listening for the vocal oropendola and then looking for its telltale yellow tail. Watch the sun set and listen to a cacophonous symphony of nocturnal animals calling out across the treetops. Then slip through the forest in a skiff as night falls, using a spotlight to find caimans, frogs, fishing bats and other creatures of the night.

Pay a visit to one of the communities on the reserve's edge and get to know the ribereños, those who live on the riverbanks, and their age-old traditions. Meet local women and children, and watch them make jewellery and other handicrafts. Learn how local subsistence farmers cultivate wild plants and trees to earn income. Hear about how the locals find edible fruits and indigenous plants with medicinal properties hidden in the jungle. (B,L,D Daily)

DAY 19: NAUTA/IQUITOS/LIMA

Enjoy one last morning excursion by skiff to view wildlife. After lunch, disembark in Nauta, and return to Iquitos overland for a late-afternoon flight to Lima. Costa Del Sol Ramada (B,L)

DAY 20: LIMA

After breakfast, your adventure concludes for your onward travel.(B)

EXTEND YOUR ADVENTURE

The per person advance payment amount varies by program, and is outlined in our brochures, as well as on our website. Holiday departure dates and certain longer voyages may carry additional advance deposit requirements due to high demand for these voyages. Payment is accepted by Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Direct Debit or Australian Dollar cheque.

Receipt of your initial payment indicates your acceptance of our complete Terms and Conditions. We require written notice at the time of reservation for any physical condition, diet, or treatment requiring special attention.

Once your reservation is confirmed, we urge you to use your personalised online account for important information to help you prepare for your voyage. Managing your documents online will facilitate fast and accurate communication, and allow you to provide us with pertinent details we require, in order to complete your reservation. Your online account gives you access to your Expedition Guide, which includes valuable information specific to your voyage. You can also use your online account to make easy payments, view recommended flights and reading material, packing list, and so much more.

Final Payment: For expeditions departing in 2015 aboard all ships with the exception of Explorer and Orion, final payment is due 90 days prior regardless to the length of the voyage. For expeditions aboard Explorer and Orion, payment is due 120 days prior to departure.

By registering for a trip, the guest agrees to all such terms and conditions.

Note: Itineraries and prices listed in this brochure are valid as of publication date, and are subject to change. Under normal conditions, the total expedition cost is guaranteed at the time of booking. However, the published price is determined far in advance of initial departure on the basis of then-existing projections of fuel and other costs. In the event we determine that current costs create an unsustainable financial model, including but not limited to increases in the price of fuel, currency fluctuations, increases in government taxes or levies, or increased security costs, we reserve the right to pass on these costs to you, to cover such unexpected increases. We will always provide a transparent accounting of the reason for such an increase in costs.
